

Rick Court

Mr. Terry Cooke, Chairman of Obvious Solutions Inc. (OSi), is pleased to announce the appointment of Rick Court as Chief Operating Officer of Abrica.net. In his role as COO Rick will be responsible for the sales, marketing, product development, and operations activities of Abrica.net working with the company's existing channel partners and attracting new partners to sell and support the product.

Mr. Court has a distinguished business background including a successful career in corporate banking, most recently as Partner at Fusion Capital Inc. Prior to Fusion; Rick was President and CEO of Link Logistics where he led the company's evolution into being the dominant player in its market, sparking its acquisition by US-based Transcore Inc.

OSi is a privately held Canadian software company based in Hamilton, Ontario. Abrica.net (www.abrica.net) is OSi's flagship product, a revolutionary, internet-based, software solution that automates supply chain transactions between large enterprises and their small-to-medium sized trading partners.
